

ALERT: You may notice a brief reduction in online services on November 11

MON, NOV 09, 2015 23:29 CET

This is an important message for our online library users. Some services will be unavailable on Wednesday, Nov. 11 in conjunction with the Veterans Day holiday.

Unavailable Services on Nov. 11

- Our enhanced catalog will allow online searching of items, but will display no holdings information or allow holds to be placed.
- Telecirc services and online fine payment will be unavailable.
- Services that require account authentication will be down such as digital content vendors (like OverDrive, Freegal, etc) and online resources (like NCLive, NovelList, Tutor.com).

We apologize for the inconvenience, however the result will help many processes run smoother behind the scenes. We anticipate all services will return by 10 a.m. on Thursday, Nov. 12.
